

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

It looks as if Sinclair has a monopoly in the Media, and i thought this would never happen. For sure this is not right. I have just watched a little documentary Out Foxed, and it was an eye opener, I also believe it is the gospel truth.. These people are very unscrupulous. We need to clean up our country, the Bush administration has not been a very good example.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
